Co-opted Governor

This page last updated on 15-09-2016

I was elected a Parent Governor in March 2014. Changes during Autumn 2014 led to a reduction in the number of elected parent governors. As the most recently elected parent governor, the governing body chose to co-opt me as a governor.

I have joined the ASQP and SPC Committees.

I have worked in Bradford for the past 15 years as a social worker. Currently I work in the NHS with children and young people and their families with emotional and behavioural difficulties.

I live in Undercliffe with my partner and son, who is now in the 6th form at Immanuel. I have a daughter currently studying in London.
