

Denise Sterling

SIAMS Monitoring
Governor

This page last updated on 08-11-2016

I originally became involved in school governance as a parent governor over 13 years ago and currently I am chair of the Local Governing Body (LGB), chair of the Leadership and Management Committee and chair of the Statutory Inspection of Anglican and Methodist Schools (SIAMs) Monitoring Committee.

I have worked in the National Health Service for over thirty years as an Occupational Therapist and I am currently Head of Occupational Therapy at Leeds Teaching Hospitals Trust with responsibility for the strategic, professional and managerial leadership of the staff; and the provision of trust wide services for all age ranges from the new born to the elderly.

Being a governor is a fulfilling role and I am very proud to be associated with Immanuel. I am committed to providing support and being a critical friend to the Head Teacher and staff to ensure that all opportunities are maximised for pupils of all abilities and backgrounds to reach their full potential.