

Violence controlled the English: The Harrying of the North

- In 1069 one of William's barons and 900 soldiers were murdered by the English in the north of England;
- The Vikings teamed up with the English to fight the Normans;
- William paid the Vikings to leave England, and killed the English who murdered his baron;
- William went further and ordered that the fields be salted so that no crops could be grown;
- 100,000 Anglo-Saxons died.

START: Problems after the Battle of Hastings

- William didn't control the whole of England;
- There were 2 million Anglo-Saxons and only 5,000 Normans;
- A royal boy, Edgar the Atheling could lead the English against William;
- The Vikings could invade England in the north to help the English.

Important Fact:

- William was crowned king on the 25th December 1066.

Information controlled the English: The Domesday Book

- William owned all the land in England;
- He wanted to know what England was worth;
- William sent inspectors to every town and village with a set of questions to ask;
- These questions found out how much money could be taken in taxes, and how many soldiers William could use in wars;
- William got one man to write this all down in the Domesday Book;
- Anglo-Saxons called it the Domesday Book because it felt like they were being judged by God.

Year 7 Learn Sheet
Exam Week 2

How did William the Conqueror take control of England?

Remember, you could be assessed on any topic you have studied so far!

Violence controlled English: Castles

- William used motte and bailey castles to quickly defend areas of England. It is thought he built over 500 of them;
- The motte (mound) was made out of heaping the soil dug to make the moat (ditch), and the bailey (courtyard) was where Norman soldiers lived;
- Strengths: The motte and bailey also had a keep (a tower on the motte) a good look out over the area and a drawbridge that could be raised to stop enemies from coming in;
- Weaknesses: It was built out of wood so could burn or rot over time.

'Knowing your place' controlled the English: The Feudal System

- The Feudal System showed who was boss in England. The King was at the top, followed by the Barons, the Knights and finally the villeins (peasants);
- It was used to keep the Anglo-Saxons in their place;
- The King gave land to the barons, the barons gave land to the knights and the villeins worked for free on this several days a week;
- In return the King got taxes and soldiers;
- The Anglo-Saxons were treated like slaves.